NATURALSPA - AUSTRALIAN BLEND 5 NATIVES

QUANDONG: a unique Australian fruit found widely throughout the deserts and semi-arid areas of Southern Australia. Contains high levels of Vitamin C and powerful bio-actives. It's jam-packed with Alpha-Amino Acids that lock in the natural moisture to keep cells hydrated from within.

KAKADU PLUM: recognised worldwide for the highest recorded levels of Vitamin C of any fruit in the world, it's wild harvested by Indigenous communities exclusively in the Kimberleys, Northern Territory and Arnhem Land. This supercharged ingredient detoxifies the skin, fights off free radical damage and stimulates the production of collagen, reducing fine lines and wrinkles.

DESERT LIME: Harvested from the clean sub-tropical ecosystem of the Northern Rivers coastal region in New South Wales, Australia, this unique fruit has a long history of Australian Indigenous use as a medicinal food and topical application due to its high antioxidant level. Desert Lime is packed with tiny pearls of potent actives that support collagen production, sunscreens, psoriasis, eczema and skin repair.

LILLY PILLY: A bush native shrub with small exotic vibrant fruits that grows all along the coastline of New South Wales. This super food berry is renowned for its regenerative, brightening and purifying properties and delivers a potent range of phyto-actives which help in skin repair and condition, UV damage, whitening, dark spot reduction and anti-aging.

WATTLESEED: Native to arid and temperate areas of Australia, this seed has pore refining, anti-inflammatory properties and promotes youthful looking skin due to high levels of amino acids (proteins). Powerful skin nourishing, skin regenerating, wound healing, acne support and anti-ageing.
