

Duck Egg Blue and Capri Pink

Shades of vivid pink and blue-green work beautifully in combination or solo.

BY KILLY MCMASLER

Whether you're working on a paint project or looking for a gift for a gal, we've got you covered!

1. Duck Egg Blue. This soft green-blue chalk paint stems from the first discovery of a good blue pigment in the 18th century that was then lightened with white. Visit anniesloan.com.
2. Capri Pink. Named after the upscale Italian island resort, Capri Pink is a true hot pink with depth and energy—provocative, yet captivating. Visit anniesloan.com.
3. Handmade Batik Kimono. This washable, hand-stamped cotton batik robe/kimono is handmade by artisans and features side pockets; $79. Visit kashicoop.com.
4. Quilchoe Yacokua Ballpoint Pen. Graf von Faber Castell uses ornamental patterns of fine, engraved lines to transform the writing instruments in its Quilchoe series into true pieces of jewelry; $20. Visit graf-von-faber-castell.us.
5. Rainbow Gem Initial Necklace. Individually hand-set stones, 14k gold-plated sterling silver. Each initial measures 3/8 x 5/8 inches; $120. Visit amellaresodesign.com.
6. Colorblock Flower Vase. Originally a small mason jar, this vase has been shortened to create a wider mouth. It's ideal for an entire bouquet; 8.5 inches; $145. Visit ohahome.com.
7. Sherwood Forest Print Apron and Mitt. This apron offers an archival Laura Ashley Sherwood Forest print, has two ruffled front pockets and ties in back; $75. Oven mitt; $50. Visit lauraashleyusa.com.
8. Sweater Cards. Raising the (chocolate) bar on greeting cards and using only fair-trade-certified ingredients, each batch is hand-stirred in copper kettles and made with love; $8.99 per bar. Visit sweatercards.com.
9. Big Ass Mug. Crafted in white stoneware, this mug holds 18 ounces and is handmade in the U.S.A.; $34. Visit atrandanchor.com.
10. The Fire Frock. This feminine frock can be worn as a dress or tunic. It has flowing sleeves in green polka dots and is available in seven sizes; $98. Visit farmhousefrock.com.