

Event Rider & Trainer Becky Crosbie-Starling is Delighted with the Results of Orego-Stim Equine on Quality Mac

Becky Crosbie-Starling tells us of how Quality Mac, 17hh Irish Sports horse now 7, is benefiting since introducing him to Orego-Stim Equine.

Mac, who has also evented, has been competing throughout 2019 in Open Working Hunter classes at county level across the country and is showjumping at Foxhunter/1.30 classes.

Mac has shown signs of hind gut disturbances "he has always been very loose", so Becky was keen to try Orego-Stim when a friend using it recommended it.

"We have noticed his droppings are firmer, so it seems to have supported his digestive health and that's showing in his top line, muscle tone and coat condition – he's looking really well."

They say happy gut = happy demeanour and Becky reports that is definitely true with Mac.

"I would say he's better in his head, concentration is much better and he's much less anxious. His poor attention span has cost him in the ring previously; but since we have given him the supplement, not only has it helped his attention span but he has become a much more reliable performer.

When travelling we have also noticed a positive change to his ability to cope when boxed; he is definitely less anxious.

Unlike other calmers I have tried in the past, Orego-Stim has not changed him, but just takes the edge off. He is much more content and that is showing in his new attitude to work."
