

TESTIMONIAL

“I have about 300 chickens, and I keep a lot of rare breeds. I have had a problem with unexplained deaths, over many years, in just one of my many yards and also the odd death among my Japanese bantams.

I was on the phone to Kylie from Anpario ordering more Orego-Stim Liquid (a product I recommend to all poultry fanciers). She advised me to try ‘Clean & Dry’ for the problems I was having in my yard. Kylie told me that Clean & Dry was a product that can be used to reduce moisture and therefore bacteria in the yard. She explained that it has a blend of natural minerals and essential oils, also that it is chemical-free and has a pleasant citrus smell.

In early summer I put the Clean & Dry down in the problem areas as per the instructions and had enough left over to completely cover the very large Japanese bantam run as well. Since then, I have had no unexplained deaths in either area.

I would definitely recommend this product if you have wet, fouled up areas that can be a home for bacteria or just an area that is due for a thorough going over. Just another one of Anpario’s great products for chooks and other farm animals!"

- Jill Weaver, Fernybridge Poultry, and author of ‘Keeping Happy Poultry’