If Not Approved, mark changes on faceplate or note them below.

A large rectangular frame representing a faceplate. On the right side, there are four labels: MESSAGE WAITING, REDIAL, FLASH, and HANDSET VOLUME. Corresponding to these labels are four rows of three black squares, representing buttons. The first three rows have three squares each, and the fourth row has three squares. The labels are positioned to the right of the squares in each row.
