About Us

Woodbee toys was founded in the year 2020, November in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our firm is based on the concept of making non toxic wooden toys with an open ended play concept. Our team is made of 90% women work force and draws inspiration from the women working here who are from the local community. Our toys are certified according to the international standards of ASTM and EN-71 and Indian standard BIS. We also have certifications for non toxicity from accredited testing institutes done at regular intervals. Woodbee toys has rapidly grown and marked itself as a significant online brand with a trusted customer base who returns to us to buy more products as they believe in the quality and the price that is being paid for a toy from us. We produce all our toys in house with skilled workmanship and rigorous quality checks.

Woodbee Toys

Infant Toys >>

Simple, safe objects can play an important role in infant development.

Infant toys are particularly associated with the sensory developmental needs like visual fixation, hand eye coordination, teething, sound stimulation etc. Woodbee's range of organic neem wood teethingers, rattles, infant play gym along with the hanging mobiles in primary colours and natural elements as patterns will help babies fall in love with their first toys and also aid in the essential connections they make with the immediate environment as soon as they are born.

Infant Toys » Neem Wood Teethers

Our exquisite collection of organic virgin neem wood teethers is designed in such a way that the teething gums get a soothing effect even upto the cheeks and molar region. Teething starts around 3 to 4 months of age and can last for 14 months or longer. We have around 22 designs of teethers each designed with smooth edges and surfaces compatible to achieve maximum amount of soothing without choking hazard.

The teethers are made of virgin neem wood and are free of any kind of coatings or polish. Since it's a mouthing toy any kind of sealer or polish is seldom used as there is no way of verifying its safety.

Infant Toys » Play GYM

Infant play gym or baby play gyms also called baby activity gyms is the earliest toy introduced to a baby. Starting to find relevance from about 3 weeks, infant play gyms along with dangles or hanging mobiles are a perfect addition to help a baby in visual fixation. Visual fixation at the early age is vital for early cognitive development that is seen developing from early to late infant stage and even upto childhood. Babies constantly develop their visual acuity (ability to distinguish shapes and details of objects at a distance), tracking an object, perception of colour, perception of depth etc. Upto 6 months a baby can see at a distance of 12 inches after which it constantly improves till it reaches the adult vision at the age of 4 to 5 years.

Infant Toys » Rattles

Woodbee's rattles are a wonderful company for developing babies who get intrigued by new sounds. The different sounds of the wooden granules give a calming effect to the babies. It can be used for calming irritable babies and for helping baby develop sound localisation. Whistled rattles are for slightly older babies who like a good whistling music in a natural, non-battery operated toy.

Rainbow Toys >>

The extensive collection of the open ended toys under the rainbow category is inspired by waldorf principles of teaching and the natural rainbows. The quintessential shelf toy in every kids household, rainbow stacker also comes with wonderful accessories to elaborate open ended play that kids and even adults can play without knowing how many hours have gone in building or making something. In open ended toys, there is no specific start or end to the particular play.

The creative liberty is at the maximum with rainbow toys and the imaginative power of a child's mind is unleashed with the set of rainbow toys.

Rainbow Toys » Rainbow stacker +

The set of concentric arches, 7pc and 12pc rainbow stackers are made in rainbow shades. More than just helping in identifying colours or stacking, the rainbow stackers can unwind endless possibilities in play. Every child will play in their own way when given a rainbow stacker. We start with no expectation or outcome when given a rainbow stacker to a child but we will have to be mind blown by the various patterns, play and structures that come out of the simple stackers.
