Argan Oil

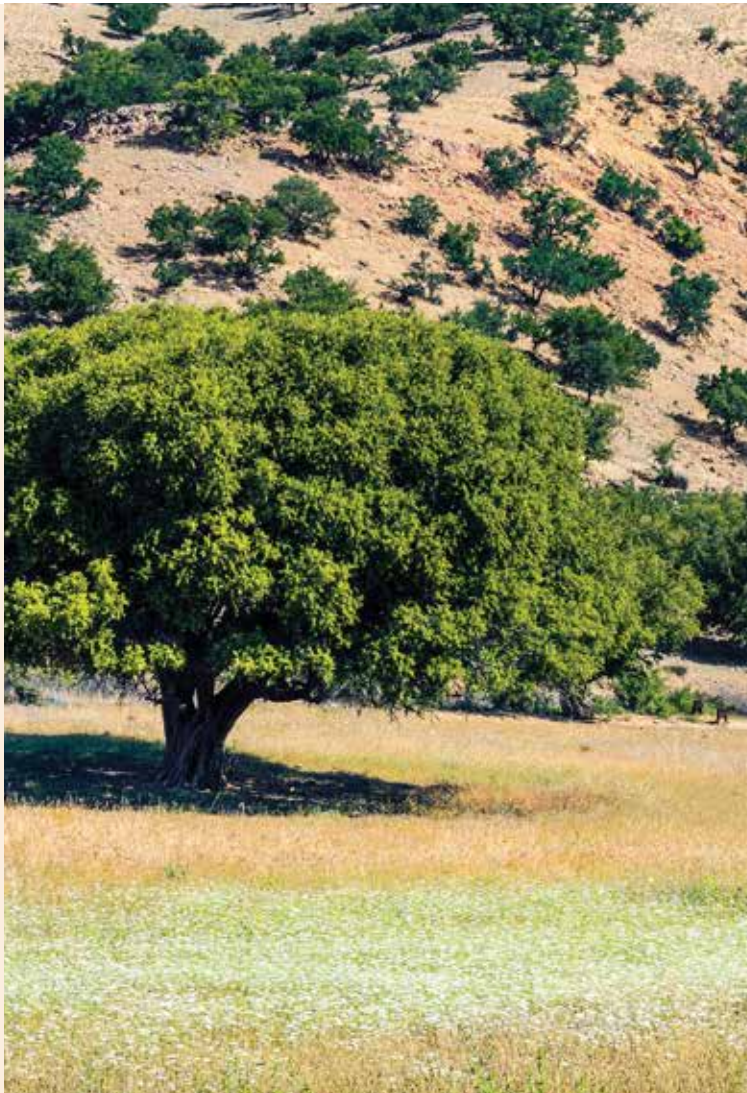

A natural antioxidant perfect for bodycare and haircare.

Argania Spinosa, UNESCO World Heritage Site

Argania Spinosa is one of the oldest trees in the world, growing exclusively in the South of Morocco.

In 1996, it was proclaimed by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site due to its rarity, being an endangered species. It is also called "Tree of Life" because over time it has become a symbol of the fight against the desertification and it is able to maintain the ecosystem of the region in which it grows.

Argania, a very strong tree that lives and adapts itself perfectly to the aridity of the Southwest of Morocco.

Argan Oil, essence of well-being

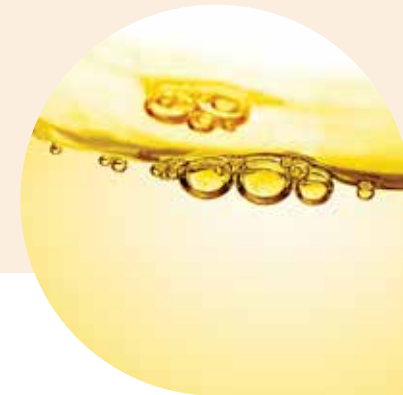

Argan Oil is a natural vegetable oil cold extracted from the fruit of the Argania Spinosa tree, well-known for its incredible food and cosmetic properties.

Traditionally it is offered to the guests, along with honey, as a sign of hospitality. In cosmetics, Argan Oil is a natural antioxidant, perfect for the face care, body care, as well as hair care.

The precious Moroccan Oil is rich in essential fatty acids, vitamin E and vitamin A that makes it a real elixir of youth because it is able to fight against free radicals and signs of aging. It has an emollient action that makes the skin soft and elastic avoiding the oily effect. It nourishes, revitalises and untangles the hair, helping to counteract dryness and dehydration, making them beautiful, luminous and nourished.
