Infrared Sauna Sales Info Pack

When we started Nimbus Co back in 2016, we were the first infrared sauna studio in Australia. Fast forward to today, we're extremely humbled to be able to now offer our very own sauna product for your at-home or at-work wellness.

Whilst we pride ourselves on our 'Nimbus experience' within studio, what COVID thought us was, how can we bring this same feeling and effect to the community when they're not visiting a studio. It sparked the idea around Nimbus wellness products, and ultimately our e-commerce journey truly began.

We're proud to be bringing two kinds of saunas to market, in collaboration with Australian vendor, Found Space, pioneers in the full spectrum infrared and traditional sauna space. A family-owned business, their values and goals as a business mimic ours and we're so excited to be working with Alex Tyson, their CEO (who took over the business from his own parents) to bring you a top product that's not going to sting your pockets as much as we've seen other infrared sauna products do with increased prices of late.

At Nimbus, we're trying to create a circular economy of holistic health, where you can take a piece of us with you whether it's in studio, or at home or work with our new sauna machine (and we have a sauna blanket soon to come too), plus some of our more daily and weekly products; namely in our signature face oil and hydration supplement.

So if you think having a Nimbus sauna is for you, and you're ready to reap the many benefits of infrared sauna-ing, read on and get in touch.

Warmest regards,

Neil & Su
