

GARLAND'S

SEDONA, ARIZONA

ABOUT US

Garland's is family owned and operated in the beautiful red rock country of Sedona, Arizona. Since 1976, our collection has gained worldwide recognition for authentic, high quality Native American and Southwestern art. We purchase our art directly from more than 500 artists, including many of the top contemporary artists in the field. We have been buying from some of these artists for over forty years, and in some cases from multiple generations. We have immense respect for these handmade art forms, as well as the rich cultures they represent and support. Garland's strives to be fair to the artist and fair to the customer, and we value both of these relationships equally.
