SCENE 1

(As the four principals prepare for their dialogue downstage, the chorus and other major cast members who are behind them, gather in clusters to pantomime discussing the start of school. Some can go upstage to lockers as if getting books, etc.)

TAYLOR

(sarcastically)

Well ... it looks like another Monday ...

(Everyone rolls their eyes and groans.)

BRYANT

I can't believe the weekend's already over. I had to spend all Sunday working on that essay for Mrs. "Don't Smile Until Christmas" (Taylor looks puzzled.) ... our language arts teacher.

KAITLIN

Only because you didn't do it in class. I finished it the day she gave it to us.

STACY

Oh, man ... I forgot my homework! I'm sunk!

BRYANT

There's too much homework, if you ask me.

BRUCE

Yeah, this homework is off the hizzle* dog!

TAYLOR

You can say that again ... I guess? I learn the stuff for the test and then ... poof ... it's gone! Hey, Kate, did you see "American Idol" last night? I think they found the next William Hung! It was really lame.

KAITLIN

Not me! I was busy securing MY future doing research on colleges!
