BATTLE OF JERICHO ACTIVITY BOOK TEACHING GUIDE

OVERVIEW

Welcome to Bible Pathway Adventures[®] The Battle of Jericho Activity Book, designed to teach children ages 8–12 the iconic story of the Battle of Jericho. This Activity Book spans five weeks of lessons, beginning with the Israelites' journey to the Promised Land and continuing through Rahab and the spies, the crossing of the Jordan River, God's battle instructions, and the fall of Jericho. Each week features a complete lesson plan, a Bible memory verse, discussion questions, and a variety of activities, including coloring pages, worksheets, puzzles, creative writing exercises, and crafts. Each lesson provides clear learning objectives, key vocabulary, and detailed instructions to help educators like you teach children the biblical faith.

Whether you're teaching in a classroom, fellowship group, or homeschooling your children, this guide provides you with the tools and flexibility to adapt each lesson to your students' needs. As you embark on this journey with your children, remember that your role is not just to teach facts, but to help children discover the Biblical faith.

Battle of Jericho Activity Book Created by Bible Pathway Adventures ISBN: 978-1-989961-63-6

Teaching Tips

- / Have materials prepared in advance.
- \checkmark Review the answer key before you begin teaching the lesson.
- Choose activities based on available time and children's learning styles.
- ✓ Adapt activities to match student abilities.
- ✓ Focus on participation and effort rather than perfection.

READY-TO-USE LESSON PLANS

Teaching biblical truth to young learners has never been easier, thanks to Bible Pathway Adventures[®] ready-to-use lesson plans and activities. Each week's lesson comes complete with clear objectives, engaging activities, and step-by-step instructions that take the guesswork out of teaching. Whether you're a seasoned educator or a parent teaching at home, these carefully structured plans provide everything you need to deliver meaningful, age-appropriate lessons.

The lessons follow a consistent format that builds from introduction to application, with key vocabulary support, discussion questions, and multiple activities to reinforce learning, while remaining flexible enough to adapt to different time frames and learning styles. Best of all, minimal prep is required—just review the lesson, gather your materials, and you're ready to go!

ACTIVITY GUIDE

Each weekly lesson includes eight hands-on activity types that can be adapted to your students' needs and abilities. Choose the ones that work best for your class and keep extra activities ready for early finishers. Dive into the Battle of Jericho with these engaging activity examples!

TEACHING GUIDE

LESSON ONE: TO THE PROMISED LAND

The Israelites are led out of Egypt by Moses, but their journey continues through the wilderness toward the land of Canaan. God provides for them, giving them manna to eat and water from a rock as they travel. When they reach the edge of the Promised Land, spies are sent to explore Canaan. However, fear of giants causes some of the men to doubt God's promise.

Introduce the Lesson:

Imagine walking through the wilderness, with no cities, no farms—just sand and rocks for miles. You've left behind the land you once knew, but ahead lies a land God has promised you. Yet the journey is long, and the challenges are many. How will you survive in this wilderness? Today, we will discover how God provided for the Israelites on their journey to the Promised Land.

Key Vocabulary Review:

The wilderness is a dry and empty land where the Israelites traveled for 40 years. Manna is the food from heaven that God gave the Israelites to eat. Commandments are instructions that God gave to teach His people how to live. A leader is someone who guides and helps others. The Promised Land is the land that God promised to give to His people, Israel.

Bible Memory Verse:

Teach Deuteronomy 34:4 by having children act out the verse. As they say, "This is the land of which I swore," have them point upward as if swearing an oath. For "to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob," have them march in place, symbolizing a journey. When they say, "I will give it," they can stretch out their arms as if presenting a gift. Finally, for "to your offspring," have them cradle an imaginary baby, representing God's promise to future generations.

Bible Story:

2

3

4

5

Share Exodus 12–20, Numbers 13:1–14:38, and Deuteronomy 34:1–12 by either reading directly from the Bible or using the story version provided. Highlight how God led the Israelites, provided manna and water, and taught them His commandments. Discuss their challenges, including fear of the giants and rebellion. Emphasize Moses' faithfulness and Joshua's role as the new leader.

Questions to Ask:

Use the questions from the Let's Discuss section to check children's understanding. Ask why God led the Israelites through the wilderness, how He provided for them, what manna was, how they got water, the importance of the Ten Commandments, why Moses couldn't enter the promised land, and how Joshua became the new leader.

Hands-On Experience:

Select activities from: Bible word search puzzle: Escape from Egypt, Worksheet: God's instructions to Israel, Bible quiz: Life in the wilderness, Coloring page: The Ten Commandments, The Tabernacle worksheet, and Camp of Israel coloring worksheet.

LESSON TWO: RAHAB AND THE SPIES

Joshua sends two spies into Jericho, but the king's men chase them, trying to uncover their mission. Rahab hides the spies on her roof, protecting them from capture. When the king's men search for them, she keeps them safe and secures a promise for her family's rescue.

Introduce the Lesson:

You are a spy, sneaking into a city with strong, high walls. The people here have heard of your God and are terrified of what He can do. But danger is everywhere—if you are caught, there will be no escape! Suddenly, a woman named Rahab offers to help you. Do you trust her? Today, we will discover how God used Rahab to protect the spies and save her and her family.

3

4

Key Vocabulary Review:

A spy is a person sent to secretly gather information about a place or people. Jericho is a strong, walled city in the land of Canaan. Rahab is a woman who helped the Israelite spies by hiding them. Scarlet is a bright red color. A promise is an agreement to do what you say you will do.

Bible Memory Verse:

Teach Joshua 2:24 – "God has given all the land into our hands. All the inhabitants of the land melt away because of us." Have children reach out to receive for "God has given," spread their arms wide for "all the land," cup their hands for "into our hands," and slowly lower themselves for "melt away."

Bible Story:

Share Joshua 2:1–24 by either reading directly from the Bible or using the story version provided. Highlight how Joshua sent two spies to Jericho, Rahab hid them from the king's men, and her faith in God. Discuss her agreement with the spies and the scarlet cord as a sign of protection.

6

Questions to Ask:

Use the questions from the Let's Discuss section to check children's understanding. Ask why Joshua sent spies, how Rahab helped them, and why she trusted God. Discuss what the spies reported, how Rahab marked her house for protection, and what this story teaches about faith and God's promises.

Hands-On Experience:

Select activities from: Bible quiz: Rahab and the spies, Newspaper worksheet: The Jericho Times, Labyrinth: Help the spies escape Jericho, From flax to fabric worksheet, Amazing facts about flax worksheet, and Story sequencing activity: Spies in Jericho.

LESSON THREE: CROSSING THE JORDAN

Joshua leads the Israelites to the Jordan River, but the water blocks their path to the Promised Land. As the priests carrying the Ark of the Covenant step forward, God miraculously parts the river, allowing them to cross on dry ground. After crossing, they set up twelve memorial stones to remember God's faithfulness.

Introduce the Lesson:

1

2

3

4

5

You are standing at the edge of a mighty river, the last barrier between you and the land God has promised. There is no bridge or boat to take you across. But then, something incredible happens—the water stops! A dry path appears before your eyes. Will you step forward in faith? Today, we'll learn how God made a path through the river for His people, Israel.

Key Vocabulary Review:

The Jordan River is a long river in the Middle East. The Ark of the Covenant is a gold-covered chest that held the Ten Commandments. A memorial is something set up to help people remember an important event. The tribes of Israel are the twelve tribes, each descended from one of Jacob's sons. Gilgal is the first place where the Israelites camped after crossing the Jordan River.

Bible Memory Verse:

Teach Joshua 3:17 by having children act out the verse. Have them pretend to lift a heavy object for "The priests bearing the ark," stomp their feet firmly for "stood firmly on dry ground," stretch their arms out to represent the parted river for "in the midst of the Jordan," and march in place for "all Israel passed over."

Bible Story:

Share Joshua 3:1–4:24 by either reading directly from the Bible or using the story version provided. Focus on how the Israelites prepared to enter the Promised Land, the priests leading with the ark, and the Jordan River stopping for them to cross. Highlight the twelve stones as a memorial of God's faithfulness.

Questions to Ask:

Use the questions from the Let's Discuss section to check children's understanding. Ask what the priests carried, what happened when they stepped into the Jordan, why God performed this miracle, the purpose of the twelve stones, and how this prepared the Israelites for the Promised Land.

6

Hands-On Experience:

Select activities from: Bible word search puzzle: Crossing the Jordan, Bible crossword puzzle: Crossing the Jordan, Worksheet: Twelve memorial stones, Worksheet: The Jordan River, Coloring worksheet: Building a memorial, and Creative writing: Israel crosses the Jordan.

LESSON FOUR: BATTLE INSTRUCTIONS

Joshua prepares the Israelites for battle, but Jericho's walls block their way. God gives them a special battle plan: for six days, they must march around the city while priests blow shofars. On the seventh day, they march seven times, shout, and watch the walls fall.

Introduce the Lesson:

The city ahead is shut tight—no one enters, and no one leaves. The walls are thick and strong, and the people inside are afraid. But instead of attacking the city with weapons, your leader, Joshua, tells you to march around it, day after day, in silence. Will this strange plan really work? Today, we will learn about God's unusual battle instructions and how trusting Him led to victory.

3

4

5

6

Key Vocabulary Review:

To circumcise means to remove a small piece of skin as a sign of God's covenant with His people. The Passover meal is a meal to remember how God rescued the Israelites from Egypt. A commander is a leader of an army. A shofar is a trumpet made from a ram's horn. Jericho was a city with strong walls that God told the Israelites to march around.

Bible Memory Verse:

Teach Joshua 6:2 by having children act out the verse. Have them place a hand above their eyes as if looking ahead for "God said to Joshua, 'See," then pretend to hold something for "I have given Jericho into your hand." Next, they can place an imaginary crown on their heads for "with its king" and stand tall, flexing their arms for "and mighty men of valor."

Bible Story:

Share Joshua 5:1–6:5 by either reading directly from the Bible or using the story version provided. Highlight how the Israelites camped at Gilgal, celebrated Passover, and Joshua met the commander of God's army. Emphasize God's unique battle plan—marching around Jericho and blowing shofars instead of using weapons.

Questions to Ask:

Use the questions from the Let's Discuss section to check children's understanding. Ask why the Amorite and Canaanite kings feared Israel, why God commanded Joshua to circumcise the men, and why the Israelites celebrated Passover at Gilgal. Discuss who Joshua met near Jericho, what the commander of God's army said, and why God gave unusual battle instructions.

Hands-On Experience:

Select activities from: Bible quiz: Camp at Gilgal, Worksheet: Joshua's battle instructions, Worksheet: God's battle plan for Jericho, Worksheet: Blowing the shofar, Map activity: God's battle plan, and Bible coloring page: Be courageous.

LESSON FIVE: FALL OF JERICHO

The Israelites follow God's plan at Jericho, but the people inside refuse to surrender. On the seventh day, after the Israelites march and blow the shofars, God miraculously brings down the walls. Rahab and her family are saved, and the city's treasures are given to God.

Introduce the Lesson:

1

2

3

4

5

6

You are standing before the towering walls of Jericho, hearing the sound of shofars blasting. Everyone shouts as loud as they can, and suddenly, the mighty walls begin to crumble before your eyes. What seemed impossible has happened—God has given you the city! Today, we will learn how the Israelites conquered Jericho through faith and obedience.

Key Vocabulary Review:

To march means to walk in a planned way. The treasury is a place where valuable things, like silver and gold, are kept. An oath is a serious promise. A shofar is a trumpet made from a ram's horn. Jericho was a city with strong walls that God told the Israelites to march around.

Bible Memory Verse:

Teach Joshua 6:16 by having children act out the verse. Have them hold up seven fingers for "At the seventh time," then pretend to blow a shofar for "when the priests had blown the shofars." Next, they can cup their hands around their mouths and shout for "Joshua said to the people, 'Shout," and finally, pretend to receive a large object for "for God has given you the city."

Bible Story:

Share Joshua 6:6–27 by either reading directly from the Bible or using the story version provided. Highlight how the Israelites followed God's instructions, marching for seven days and staying silent until the final shout brought down the walls. Emphasize Rahab's faith, her family's rescue, and God's power in Israel's victory.

Questions to Ask:

Use the questions from the Let's Discuss section to check children's understanding. Ask how the Israelites conquered Jericho, why they marched around the city, what happened on the seventh day, and why they shouted. Discuss why Rahab and her family were saved and what this story teaches about faith and obedience.

Hands-On Experience:

Select activities from: Bible quiz: Fall of Jericho, Bible word search puzzle: Victory at Jericho, Newspaper worksheet: Bible word unscramble: Joshua, Coloring worksheet: Rahab escapes!, and Story sequencing activity: Battle of Jericho.

