Wheat straw plastics

What Exactly Is It?

Wheat straw is the stalk left over after wheat grains are harvested. Traditionally, it has been treated as a waste. In some countries, farmers burn it, leading to air pollution and creating a public health hazard. However these stalks still have value. We reclaim this material and use it to make our wheat straw products.

Our wheat straw fiber products contain a minimum of 30% wheat fiber make a balance between ABS and wheat straw, resulting in a product with a long life, while substantially reducing plastic use. Wheat fiber ABS is a relatively new product that is growing in popularity, and while it does contain PP, the content is greatly reduced. There no means to make safe products from recycled polymers on a commercial scale at this time, so these products incorporate materials that are sustainable, or that would normally discarded in order to reduce the amount of Acrylonitrile-Butadiene-Styrene used.
