

13TH Annual Silly Science Sunday

- Street Festival focused on hands-on, interactive STEAM displays, exhibits, and stage shows!
- Addresses a documented need in our community to improve STEAM learning among our school-aged population, especially preschool, elementary and middle school students.
- Showcases local and regional STEAM-based educators, organizations, businesses and groups.
- Exhibitors are selected through an application process and must offer interactive activities that focus on career exploration and/or workforce development.

Event Objectives:

- ✓ cultivate audiences' interest in STEAM;
- ✓ enhance participants' identity as STEM learners;
- ✓ promote participants' understanding of discipline content knowledge and the scientific process; and
- ✓ inspire young people to pursue future STEAM careers.
