

NECKLACE SIZING

This Illustration shows common necklace lengths. Please use this only as a general guide, as every body shape is different.

Necklaces are measured along the top curve of the necklace. For some statement necklaces, the "bib" part will hang several inches lower than the chain length given.

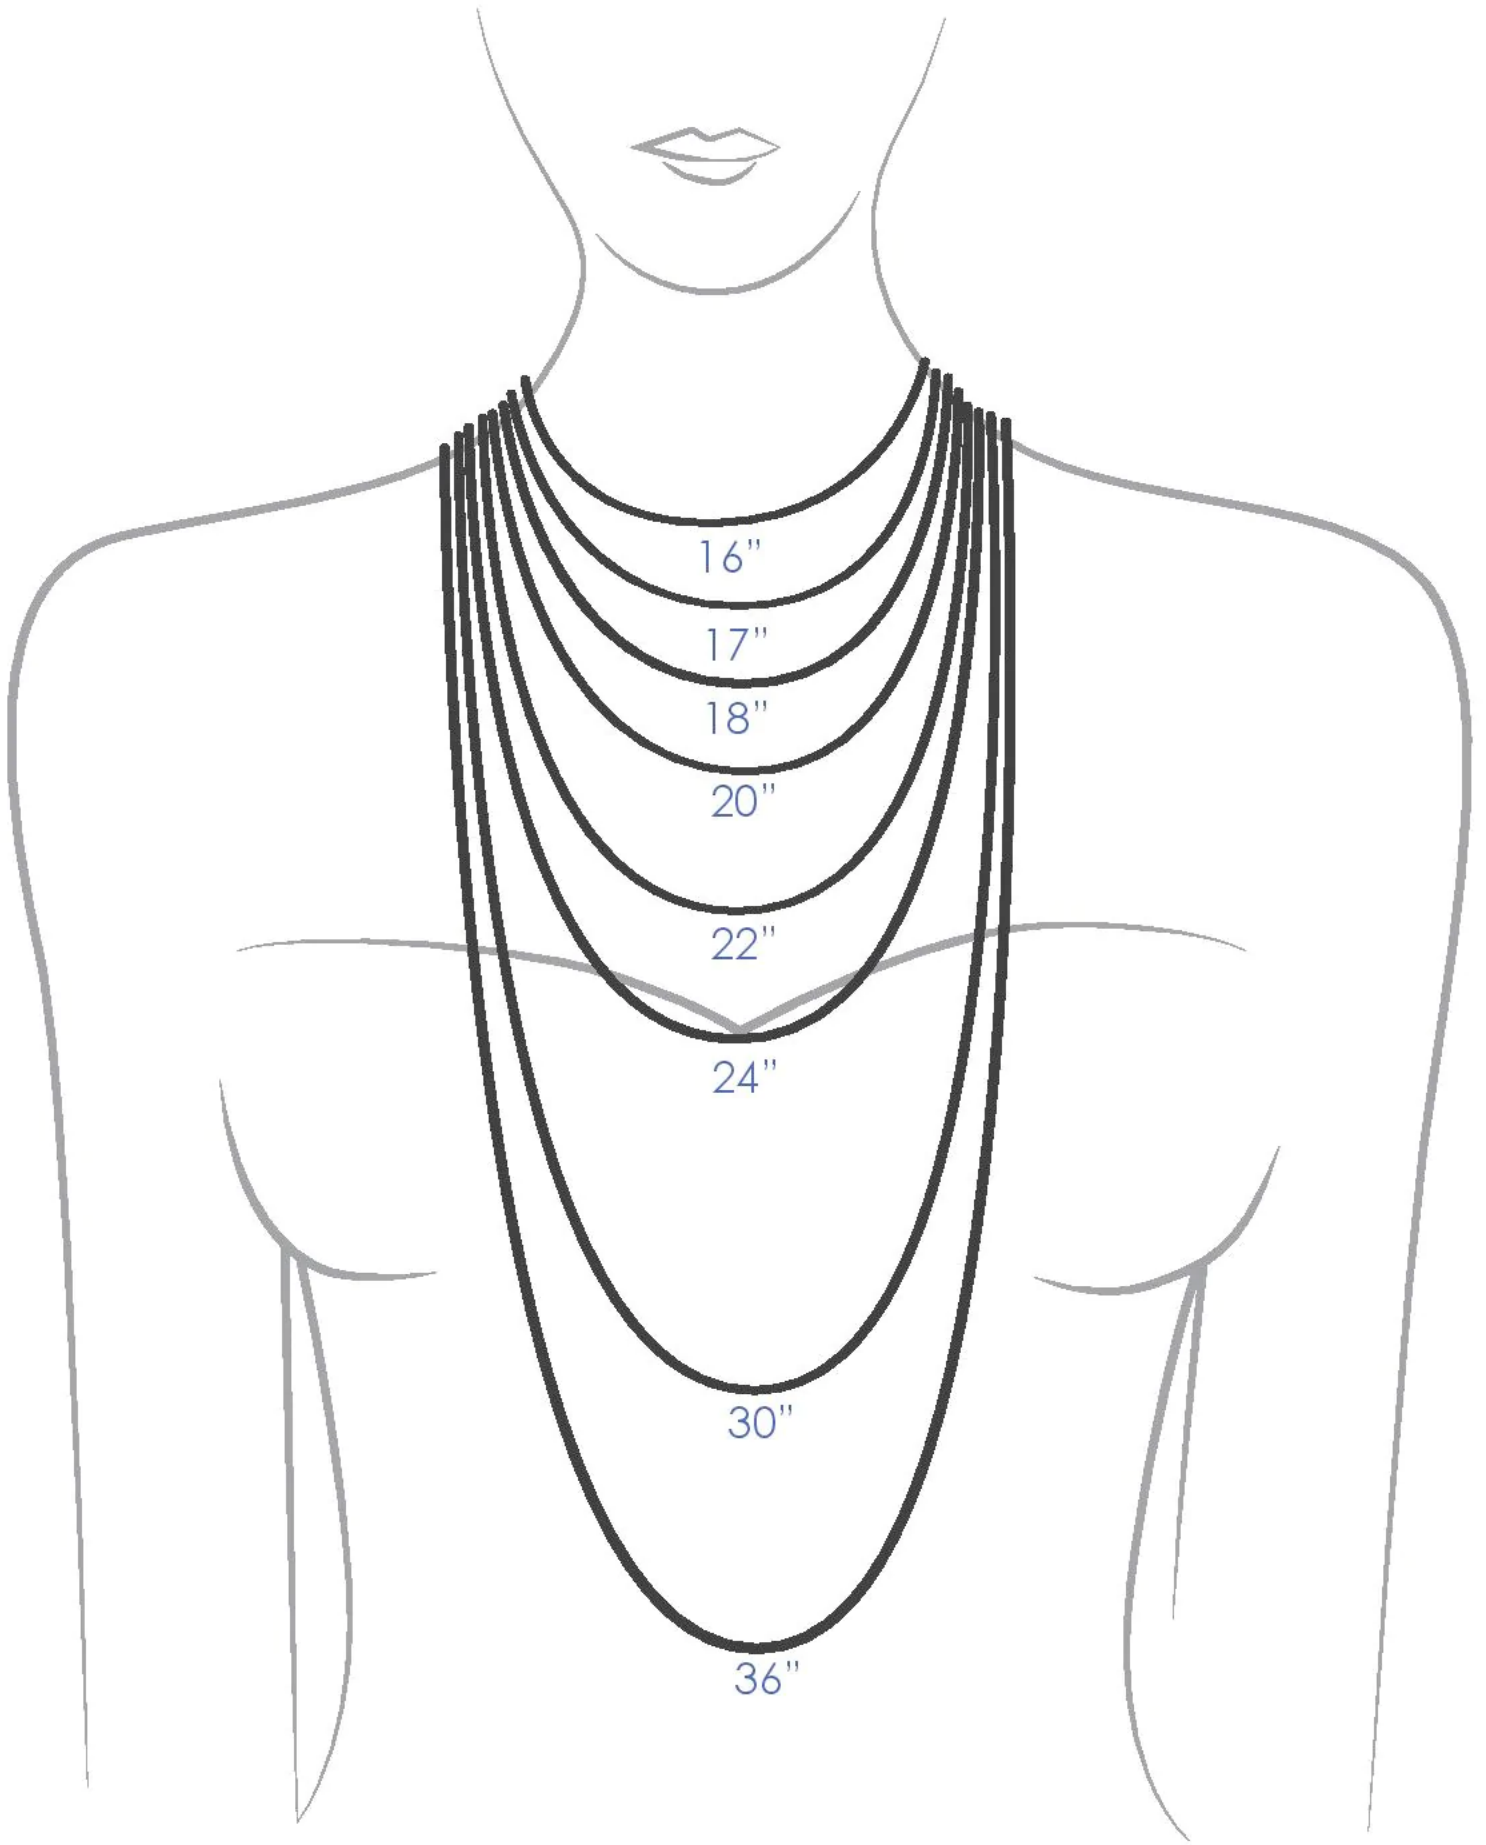

Some necklaces and pendants include an extender. See individual listing for details.

To determine what length you'd like: If you have a chain that fits perfectly, lie it flat and measure the length from end to end, and use that measurement. Otherwise, wrap a piece of string (or floss - anything thin and flexible enough will do) around your neck, bringing the ends to meet at the desired location. Mark the spot, lay your string flat and measure to determine your preferred length.

If you live outside of the US and use the awesomely logical metric system, here's a handy conversion table:

16 inches	40.6 cm
18 inches	45.7 cm
20 inches	50.8 cm
22 inches	55.9 cm
24 inches	61 cm
26 inches	66 cm
28 inches	71.1 cm
30 inches	76.2 cm
34 inches	86.4 cm
36 inches	91.4 cm
