FINE ART

Curt Butler - Educated at Kent State University and The Savannah College of Art and Design, Curt Butler received both a Bachelor and Masters Degree in Fine Art. He has spent the last 20 years as a teacher, professional artist as well as an art advocate for public art regionally. He has been honored as a teacher of the year as well as making a living as professional artist being represented throughout the South East as well as adorning the walls of many private collections.

His style and work aim to have a multiple approach that speak to the tradition of layering oil paint in technique as well as layering intent towards the viewer. Butler's work from a distance commands the space of any room with mood of color, composition and iconic imagery. As we approach, the expression in application, brush and knife work speak louder and we begin to see the mark making reflect the subject in raw form. Upon final inspection, we are left with a hint in title towards the artist's origin of intent while reflecting for ourselves both complexity and simplicity of metaphor.
