

HEAVY CAT FLU

European cat, male, castrated, black, no exact age as he was adopted.

For several weeks he was suffering from heavy cat flu, with high amount of puss coming out of the eyes and nose, and high inflammations of the mucous membranes of the mouth and throat.

He was treated with several different antibiotics without success. The inflammation and the pain were so bad that for three days the animal refused any food or water.

Treatment: 6 minutes BIOPTRON 2 device.

Result: After initial fright due to the bright light and the noise of the fan, the cat stretched comfortably and started to purr. After the treatment the owner took the animal home and called shortly after to tell that the cat spontaneously went to have a drink. The following day the cat was able to eat solid food again. The treatment was continued with the BIOPTRON 1 device for one week twice daily. Within four weeks the sickness disappeared completely, with the exception of an occasional attack of sneezing, which produced a little puss each time.

Comment: The owner is a special friend of cats, who adopts many wild cats and successfully treats any appearance of cat flu with Bioptron.
