

HORSE ULCER IN THE EYES

An Appaloosa had ulcers in his eyes which the vet had treated several times. He was blind at night and had poor vision with weeping eyes during the day. The owners rented the light for a month and treated him a few times per week, using the purple and Bioptron. They were delighted at the results.

Heidi Dobbie
Bioptron Therapist
Works on a polo farm