

HORSE SORE MUSCLES

After making a bad mistake and all but falling in the Hawkes Bay Hurdles the owner of Solid Still were told on Tuesday that his muscles were so sore it was unlikely he would be starting at Wellington.

Solid Still was worked on the lead from another horse and treated with Bioptron Colour Therapy after receiving instructions on the use of colours by Mirjana Arlov.

By Saturday Solid Still was much improved and after galloping on Tuesday it was decided that he would start at Wellington. He won by five lengths.
