

HORSE SPLIT HOOF CORONET

Famous German show-jumper Tjark Nagel treated his favorite horse Calando with the BIOPTRON Light. He had a split hoof coronet, which an operation kept refusing to heal. “For three months Calando was treated three times a day, for six minutes, after which he was as well as he had ever been,” comments Nagel’s wife on the recuperation process.