

HORSE BITE ON THUMB

The little daughter of a woman whose horse I was massaging attempted to give some grain to the horse tied up near us. It grabbed her thumb instead causing piercing wails. I had the light in the car and used the purple, for about 10 minutes and until she stopped crying. The mother told me later that she wanted to show the child's grandmother the damage and couldn't pick which thumb it was.

Heidi Dobbie
Bioptron Therapist
Works on a polo farm