

CHRONIC TOE INFECTION

A stud manager who had resisted sales approaches over the past 6 months was finally convinced when he received treatment for a chronic toe infection. Apparently the bone had been damaged several years ago when a heavy object fell on his foot and he had suffered an infection in the bone ever since. Even an operation 18 months ago had not solved the problem but one treatment with light and colour therapy gave immediate relief.