

Sunpan expands outdoor collection with new furnishings, accent pieces

Erica Hawbaker // Associate Editor, Furniture Today

February 17, 2022

TORONTO – Sunpan, a global furniture company that specializes in design and manufacturing of transitional and contemporary furnishings, has introduced new categories to its outdoor collection, including a variety of accent pieces.

Since its initial launch early last year, the collection has grown to more than 180 SKUs. The expanded collection offers a diverse range of products including dining tables, dining chairs, occasional tables, lounging seating and accents with Sunpan’s modern and contemporary stylings.

The Outdoor by Sunpan collection also includes a selection of pieces made with sustainable materials, and it uses SVLK-certified grade-A teak wood, a durable material that is sourced from Indonesia using sustainable forestry practices. The new selection of rugs uses PET yarn, a moisture-repellent material.

Sunpan will showcase its collection at its Toronto and High Point Showrooms. Live inventory and ETA can be viewed through approved accounts on Sunpan's website.

Erica Hawbaker, associate editor for Furniture Today, is a recent graduate of the University of Iowa, with a degree in English and a writing certificate in publishing. In addition to bringing her writing talent to the editorial team, Erica will add her late-Millennial perspective.