AN interior designer said when it comes to buying furniture, she values quality over popularity.

The expert revealed the places she never shops and where to turn to instead.

Corinne Victoria (@corinnevictoriadesign) is a Virginia-based interiors guru who started her own studio to guide those hoping to elevate their space.

In one video, she said the trendy home chain stores aren't always the best places to shop, as they can be low quality and repetitive.

"Where to buy furniture," Corinne began.

Corinne said West Elm isn't her go-to either, as she opts for furniture from Sunpan instead.
