

Salvi Earth was created to promote the vibrant and unique artisan culture of El Salvador, all while helping to improve our environment and the communities of our artisans.

Each piece in our collection, from simple totes to resort pieces and accessories, is handwoven by Salvadorian artisans with everyday use in mind. The purchase of these accessories directly helps build the local economies and communities of the artisan we trade with. Environmentally, given each item is handcrafted out of 100% recycled plastic, every accessory in our collection directly helps reduce the amount of plastic in our environment. Sustainability, fair trade, and practicality are at the core of the Salvi Earth brand.