Tips and Nano Magic Tricks

Like all crafts, nano tape takes practice. Our magic creations have star ratings next to each tutorial, so you can find one that's the right level for you. Start with "magic," then progress to more complex tutorials as your confidence grows.

★ MAGIC ★★ SPELLBINDING ★★★ WOW!

Part of the magic of nano tape is that it's super, super sticky! To stop your tape from sticking to your tabletop, try laying down a sheet of parchment paper or some of the discarded backing film before you get crafty!

Nano magic doesn't last forever. Have fun making lots of cute crafts and enjoy them while they last. Take lots of photos of your amazing creations to share with your friends. You could even try making your own tutorial videos. It's a viral trend, after all!

Remember, scissors are sharp! Always ask an adult to help you cut your tape. The nano magic might rub off on them, too!

1 Cut a length of nano tape—about 5 ½ inches is perfect—and lay it sticky side up on the table. Scatter it with sprinkles, and then lay down your straw or the tip of the pump onto the tape, about ½ inch from the edge.

2 Fold the nano tape in half over the straw or pump, sealing the edges. Don't press on the middle—this part will inflate to make your bubble.

3 Cut the square end of the tape into a semicircle.

4 Then remove the backing film.

5 Use the pump or blow into the straw to inflate your bubble. If you're finding this difficult, warming the tape a little with a hair dryer can help. To detach your bubble, quickly remove the straw or pump, and pinch the opening to seal.

6 Use your felt-tip pen to draw a cute face, fins, and a tail. Add other shades, too, if you have them.

EVEN MORE MAGIC...

Make o-fish-ally fun, 3-D details by cutting fins and a tail shape from nano tape. Remove the backing film from each piece, then attach them to your pufferfish. You could shade them in with felt-tip pens, or draw them onto cardstock and cover them in tape.
