Herb Varieties

Amethyst Basil

- Purple, Genovese-type Basil has large, thick, down-turned leaves. Use fresh or dried.

Plant Source: Swift Greenhouses Inc.

Dark Opal Basil

Fast-growing red basil.

Slightly ruffled plants are mostly purple, with 10% variegated or all green for a great color combo. Leaves avg. 1 1/2-3" at full size. Red leaves and purple flowers make attractive garnishes and cut flowers. AAS winner. Ht. 16-18".

•Edible Flowers: Use the flowers in any recipe that calls for basil, or to garnish drinks, salads, soups, pasta, and desserts. Flavor is of intense basil.

Seed Source: Johnnys Selected Seeds

Emerald Towers Basil

Very late flowering Genovese type for field, containers, and hydroponics. Emerald Towers flowers up to 10-12 weeks later than standard varieties for huge yield potential of glossy, dark green leaves. Well branched, columnar habit with short internodes makes a tidy plant of 24-36”.

Seed Source: Osbourne Quality Seeds

Genovese Basil

Basil lovers unanimously recommend Genovese as the best variety for pesto! Plants are strong producers of dark green, glossy leaves with a characteristic spoon shape, exceptionally tender texture and distinctive sweet flavor excellent in sauces and cooking. 10-12" plants.

- Excellent for processing
- Field or containers
- Open-Pollinated

Seed Source: Johnny's Selected Seeds

Newton Basil

Fast growing and highly resistant to fusarium, you can have an advantage over similar varieties. Newton is very mild in flavor and has no licorice aftertaste and many consumers prefer it. Performs well in the ground, hydroponics and in a container. The large, bright green, crinkled leaves are perfect for a mozzarella basil bruschetta, and in your favorite soup, or fresh chopped herb.

Seed Source: Tomato Growers Supply Co

Prospera[®] Compact DMR Basil

Outstanding, compact Genovese basil with downy mildew and Fusarium resistance.

The dense, slow-bolting plants produce very large, 3-4", dark green, glossy, heavily cupped leaves. Traditional Genovese aroma. Uniform plants with short spaces between leaves produce high yields. Excellent for live-plant, container, and hydroponic production, as well as gardens.

Seed Source: Johnny's Selected Seeds

Sweet Aroma II Basil

A Genovese variety with medium green leaves, very uniform, high productivity, slow bolting, and Fusarium resistance. Accepting of cooler temperatures.

Seed Source: Osbourne Quality Seeds

Sweet Thai Basil

Authentic Thai basil flavor. Try it as a flavorful garnish for sweet dishes. Green, 2" long leaves have a spicy, anise/clove flavor. Attractive purple stems and blooms. Called "Horapha" in its mother country, "Hun Que" in Vietnam. Ht. 16-20".

Borage

Edible flower with mild cucumber flavor. Large plants bear hundreds of small edible flowers, mostly blue and some pink. Long harvest period. Borage flowers attract bees and butterflies.

Seed Source: Johnny's Selected Seeds

Chamomile, German

An ornamental, honey scented herb with finely cut foliage and daisy-like blooms. Aroma therapy and herbal drinks. Height: 12-18 in. Spacing: 8-12 in.

Plant Source: Swift Greenhouses Inc.

Catnip

Many cats have a great affection for catnip. Its essential oils can frenzy a cat as they are seduced by the chemical nepetalacton. The excitement is short-lived, and those who are susceptible will need to recuperate before indulging again. Keep in mind, not all cats like catnip. Transplant after the last frost in your growing area.

Seed Source: Tomato Growers Supply Co.

Garlic Chives

Similar to standard chives with delicate garlic flavor.

White, star-shaped flowers are long-lasting, ornamentally beautiful and unique. Plants grow more slowly than standard chives and are slightly less hardy. Makes for a great addition to salads and a delicious garnish on most dishes.

- Excellent ornamental
- Hardy in Zones 4 and up
- Open-Pollinated

Seed Source: High Mowing Organic Seeds

Purly Chives

Exclusive! Versatile medium-size leaves. Compared to Staro, Purly has a more upright plant habit with a slightly straighter leaf.

- Edible Flowers: Pull the florets apart and sprinkle on salads, dips, sauces, soups, stir-fries, and pizza. Great as an addition to potato salad. Flavor is of mild, sweet onion.

Seed Source: Johnnys Selected Seeds

Chives

Crisp, dark green, narrow leaves and purple flowers. Leaves have a mild onion flavor. Very hardy.

Plant Source: Swift Greenhouses Inc.

Santo Cilantro

The commercial standard for field bunching. Very bolt-resistant variety with good flavor and excellent upright habit for easy harvesting. Fast-growing variety is great for cut-and-come-again. Bred by Alf Christenson.

- Upright habit
- Fast growing
- Open-Pollinated

Seed Source: High Mowing Organic Seeds

Dill

This beautiful dwarf dill plant has frilly leaves and reaches 16 to 18 inches. Yellow flowers add color to your vegetable garden and attract swallowtail butterflies. The leaves, stem and seeds can be used for seasoning.

Seed Source: Tomato Growers Supply Co.

Lavender Blue Spear

Large royal purple flower spikes crowd together on well-branched, bushy plants for showy impact. Incredibly fragrant flowers and foliage are ideal additions to sachets and potpourris. Lavandula Blue Spear with its intensely fragrant flower spikes will bring an entourage of beneficial pollinators. Run your fingers through the foliage when strolling through the garden for an absolutely soothing scent. Many feel Lavender scent places them in a relaxed state.

Plug Source: Swift Greenhouses

Lavendar Hidcote Blue

The classic form complete with wonderful fragrance! A necessity in the garden or landscape! This is the true lavender! Just brushing up against it will release its intense aroma! The foliage is silver-gray, and the flowers are deep violet-blue-colored. The leaves are evergreen and reach 2 in. long. Flowering occurs in summer, and the flowers are $\frac{1}{4}$ – $\frac{1}{2}$ in. long, form interrupted spikes, and have an attractive fragrance. The leaves and the flowers are aromatic and have many uses.

Lemon Balm

Strongly aromatic herb with lemony fragrance and excellent medicinal and culinary qualities.

Shiny green leaves on full plants up to 2' tall. Harvest before flowering since leaf quality declines as flower stalks mature. Start transplants 6-8 weeks before last frost, seeds 1/4" deep; transplant seedlings 18" apart or direct sow after all danger of frost is past.

- Attracts bees
- Vigorous spreading habit
- Perennial
- Open-Pollinated

Plug Source: Swift Greenhouses.

Lemon Verbena

Flavor fish, poultry, salads, and salad dressings.

Aside from the lemony delight of growing this verbena, it is a plant for every garden space. Give this herb soil with good drainage and watch it take off. Whether in a container or in the back border, the fragrant sweet leaves of verbena will set easily. A perennial in areas with frost-free winters, up to zone 8. Can be overwintered indoors in all other areas.

Plug Source: Swift Greenhouses

Lovage

Specialty culinary herb.

Young leaves taste like celery and are used in spring salads and with potato, rice, and poultry dishes. Roots and young stems are also edible. Young stems can be cut, peeled, and used in salads. Stems are smooth, hollow, and thick.

- Attracts beneficial insects if allowed to flower.

- Popular perennial groundcover
- Open pollinated, fragrant Summer bloomer
- Thrives in full sun or partially shaded areas

Seed Source: Eden Brothers

French Thyme

Softly mounding plants of cascading gray-green thyme leaves are a handsome accent in every cook's garden. Intensely aromatic thyme is indispensable in all kinds of savory dishes throughout the classic Mediterranean cuisines of France, Italy and Greece and enhances both Cajun and Creole food. Use the spicy little leaves every day to combine and blend beautifully with the flavors of lemon, garlic, basil and parsley for seasoning vegetables, seafood and poultry. Thyme is easy to freeze or dry.

Plug Source: Swift Greenhouses

English Thyme

This plant is an herb that retains flavor well. Hardy, wide, dark green leaves. Used to flavor soups and casseroles. Growing height 10"-12".

Plug Source: Swift Greenhouses

Mother Thyme

Creeping thyme performs best in full sun and well-drained soils. The plant does well in sandy or rocky soils. It is intolerant of wet or poorly drained soils. The plant requires very little maintenance. It will remain evergreen during mild winters. Pruning of the stems is recommended to maintain their appearance.

Creeping thyme has a spicy fragrance making it an excellent choice for a sensory garden and may be used as a lawn substitute or to fill in between pavers.. Although it is a member of the thyme family, it is rarely used as a culinary herb. It attracts bees and butterflies and is deer and rabbit resistant. It may be used as a container plant, groundcover, or as a border for patios or sidewalks. The spreading form sprawls easily over rocks, ledges, or can cover a dry bank.
