

Empty Bed

Empty bed
Has an empty space in my heart
I'm feeling blue
Cause I never learned to play this game smart

Everytime
You were pretending your love was so true
I must have been blind cause I go over it again
All the things that we'd gone through

I should stop looking out my windowpane
Hope to see you coming back
Even though I wait for you in vain

But if we have another night of love
A night without the things we did and said before
If maybe you could fall in love with me once more
You'll see the right way bright and clear
And you'll walk back through my door

Empty bed
Like the empty look, on your face
Although I tried, loving you by the book I lost my place
Empathy was my last refuge now the moon's
Reflecting light, where we had our last embrace before you left my room

Let us get our love back again
No more being on our own
We can be side by side again
Come back and share my home
