WESTERN DRIFTWOOD

Aptly named, this beautiful set of timber was conceived with one of the world's 7 natural wonders in mind - The Grand Canyon. This most recent addition to the company's line of hand-crafted gas logs resembles the natural terrain of the Grand Canyon along the sun baked banks of the Colorado River. Scorching summers and cool wet winters served as inspiration behind such detail. It features a washed-out, sun-bleached exterior against rich gray tones and bright white elements creating the backdrop for deep, cracking, splitting in-the-woods bark. We recommend the Western Driftwood log set as the perfect option for any transitional design.
