THE HOW, WHAT AND WHY

A misspent youth between Brooklyn Whelan, Scott Douglas and Pablo Frenkel led to the creation of Running with Thieves. As kids of the 80's and 90's and a friendship of over 20 years, it was always inevitable a disproportionate amount of beer drinking would lead to a brewery. Running with Thieves is an environment to try new things with creative people passionate about their craft. We create and produce what we like, not what's on trend. There is no set plan, it generally resembles Voltron but more often Voltron without the legs.

On a plane back from Tokyo after a night of sake... a lot of sake, Brooklyn pencilled the words "Running with Thieves" and an idea for an apparel company. On landing back in Sydney the first call was to Pablo. With Pabs on board, Thieves very quickly became a real thing. Having built and run a successful brewery in Margaret River Western Australia, Scott was looking for a new project and based on history, it was inevitable Thieves would move into beer.

Thieves built a brewery and distillery and like a half-built Death Star started producing beer. Building a brewery can feel like a street fight at time and just as you get ahead, someone throws a global pandemic at you. But like all good stories, there has to be a happy ending and closer to the summer of 2021, the world started looking normal again and the restaurant and bar were finished... kind of... is anything ever really finished?
