

Fraternal Greetings!

The Order of St. George in the United Kingdom cordially invites all members of the Royal Society of St. George to join us in lighting a candle for St. George's Day as a sign of hope and solidarity in these challenging times.

In the United Kingdom, we'll lighting up from 20:00 BST (GMT+1) on Thursday 23 April 2020, but wherever you are in the world, please set a candle to help create a worldwide ring of light.

Please send us a photo of your candle for inclusion in our special edition of the Order's journal, Called to Order, which will appear in May.

An icon of protection

Since Old Testament times man and women have, in times of trouble, put a sign of protection on their doors to guard against evil. We have written this special Order of St. George icon – featuring our Patron slaying a coronavirus-ridden dragon – that we invite you to place in your window or door.

If you live in the UK and would like a copy, please send an SAE (stamped addressed envelope) to ST. GEORGE ICONS, c/o Stumps Cottage, Tonbridge, Kent TN11 8JL.

You'll receive a copy of the icon for you to use and an additional copy, in notelet form, for you to send to a friend. If you can include one or more loose second class stamps to cover print costs, that would be helpful.

Please visit this page to order extra copies or for non-UK orders.

The Order of St. George is affiliated to the Royal Society of St. George.
