

Our Story

R. Hanauer was established in 1985 when its owner, Randy Hanauer, realized that white pocket squares were a niche that needed to be filled in the menswear market. At the time, the only squares available were the "for blow, not for show" type, and, as Hanauer knew, a handkerchief is much too large for a suit breast pocket. Hanauer's knowledge in fabric, design and color, combined from his experience as a menswear manufacturer's representative made his new business endeavor possible.

The first R. Hanauer squares were designed by Hanauer and created with the aid of a seamstress. Much of the original pressing and packaging took place on his dining room table. The squares were well received by retail stores and Hanauer soon added a few new patterns, such as tattersalls, plaids and paisleys.

As he grew in talent and confidence, bow ties and matching cummerbunds were added to his product line.

In 1989, R. Hanauer, Inc. expanded operations as the company moved into its own workshop in Fort Mill, South Carolina. The company has since tripled the size of the facility. Hanauer attributes much of his success to, "good honest working relationships and a product based on quality." The relationship most important to the R. Hanauer business is family. Randy's son, Randall Hanauer, is now in partnership with his father. Randy and Randall work closely to bring you a fresh and exciting collection each season that upholds the high-quality reputation of the R. Hanauer brand.

Our Process

R. Hanauer accessories have been part of a gentleman's wardrobe for over thirty years. We are dedicated to hand-cutting, hand-sewing and shipping our bow ties, cummerbund sets and ascots out of our hometown workshop in Fort Mill, South Carolina and are committed to carrying American-made products.

Randy and Randall Hanauer hand-select the silk, cotton, linen, and wool fabrics for each accessory collection from internationally renowned mills. Our in-house team of talented artists and creators then make-to-order each bow tie, ascot and cummerbund set. Our neckties are hand-sewn in a North Carolina workshop using the delicate slip-stitch method.

All of our handmade bow ties are cut on the bias to give the famous R. Hanauer stretch. Although it yields less product from each yard of fabric, the bias-cut fabric allows for stretch resulting in the best tying and most classic looking bow tie on market. R. Hanauer also uses an interfacing in its bow ties that ensures the bow will maintain its shape for years of wear.

R. Hanauer is dedicated to delivering the finest, handmade accessories from our American workshops and providing top-notch service for each individual and business we are fortunate to call a customer. Thank you for being a part of our success and we hope to work with you for years to come.

When purchasing the perfect bow tie, not only do you need to consider the right color but you should always consider the right shape to finish your clothing!

R. Hanauer is a cut above the rest by offering you seven different bow tie cuts to choose from!

R. Hanauer offers you more than just bow ties...we have a full line of matching accessories to add the finishing touches to all of your clothing.

Ascots

Our ascots are full length ascots measuring 50 inches long. They are 2-I/4 inches wide at the neck where there are four hand pleats. The widest part at the end is 5-I/4 inches.

The word "Ascot" comes from the English racetrack, Ascot Heath, where the first ascot was worn.

Pocket Squares

A jacket's breast pocket was designed to display a pocket square. Without a pocket square, the breast pocket appears superfluous, and the outfit is incomplete.

Pocket squares should not match the tie. The pocket square should share colors that are in your tie, and if possible, the colors in your shirt and jacket.

D-Ring Belts

Our D-ring belts are I-I/4 inches wide, fashioned with nickel buckles and have a no-roll interfacing. They are a perfect belt for walking shorts or khaki pants.
