Choose from 4-unit conversions such as ounces, pounds, grams, and kilograms. It has an autocalibration from an easy-to-use touch button keypad.

After 180 seconds, the auto-off function will turn off the scale to prevent unnecessary battery consumption. It will also display whether the scale has been overloaded as well as if it is low on battery and it needs replacement. The tare function will also make it easy to remove an ingredient or item from the measurement if you would like to add an additional item on the scale without counting the ingredient that was already there.
