The Institute of PHYTOBIOPHYSICS® was founded in 1992 after 15 years of research and development into the use of natural energy of plants in order to create vibrational formulas for humans and animals.

Historic research into the vibration of the body has verified that electrical impulses travel through the central and autonomic nervous system. Electrical circuits flow through specific body organs and systems, aiding their function. It has been shown that a free flow of energy is essential to ensure optimum health.

As a result of many years of research each PHYTOBIOPHYSICS® Formula has been made by combining the essence of rare plants and trees, which have been gathered worldwide. This unique philosophy referred to as PHYTOBIOPHYSICS® is now recognised as a leading science in the world of natural healthcare. PHYTOBIOPHYSICS® formulas do not contain drugs, chemicals, additives, salts or preservatives. Because they have no organic or chemical content they have no side effects. They are safe to be combined or taken with any other preparation and do not interfere with medical prescription.
