

THE #BETTERLETTERSIN15 CHALLENGE

WEEK 3 | DAY 3 | CONNECTIONS

---

PRACTICE MAKES PROGRESS

---

Today we will be practicing connection these letters together: p-r-o-g
Here are 2 examples (one without bounce and one with bounce) based on the letter variations previously provided:

WITHOUT BOUNCE

The word "prog" is written in a cursive script. The letters are connected, but the strokes are relatively flat and do not have a significant upward or downward curve. Light blue lines are drawn over the word, highlighting the exit strokes of the 'p', 'r', and 'o' that connect to the following letters.

WITH BOUNCE

The word "prog" is written in a cursive script. The letters have a more pronounced, bouncy quality with significant curves. Light blue lines are drawn over the word, highlighting the exit strokes of the 'p', 'r', and 'o' that connect to the following letters.

When creating words, I like to think about it as each individual letter being put next to another. Make sure the exit stroke (blue lines) on each letter is long enough for the next letter to be connected to it.

On the next pages, practice the connection. There are 3 worksheets to pick from: one filled with examples to trace, one with just one example to trace, and a blank sheet if you need it. You don't have to do both variations, you can pick one to focus on if you'd like.

prog prog prog prog

prog prog prog prog

prog prog prog prog

prog prog prog

prog prog prog

prog prog prog

prog prog

