

Slab Table

A slab table by De JONG & Co. is a unique expression of the original forests in America. Sustainably sourced from old-growth trees in the Pacific Northwest either salvaged or deemed a hazard. Painstakingly worked by hand to bring out the character of its long and historic life cycle. Dominant design elements include charred and polished live edges, traditional handmade butterfly keys, unique solid brass chevron keys, and a patterned layout of patchwork inlays. After a careful selection process the slab is precisely milled and flattened using specialized machinery. Next the slab is meticulously mapped to enhance the beauty and movement of its individual grain patterning and character. Glints of brass skip across the surface. Finally every slab table top is carefully rubbed, waxed, and buffed by hand for a uniquely handcrafted depth and sheen with the help of our own custom formulation of traditional oils and waxes. You would be hard pressed to find a greater beauty and originality of any surface than a slab table hand crafted by De JONG & Co.
