

TSAR520 Advanced Ultrasonic Animal Repeller Placement Guide

Animal Pest Problem In Front of House

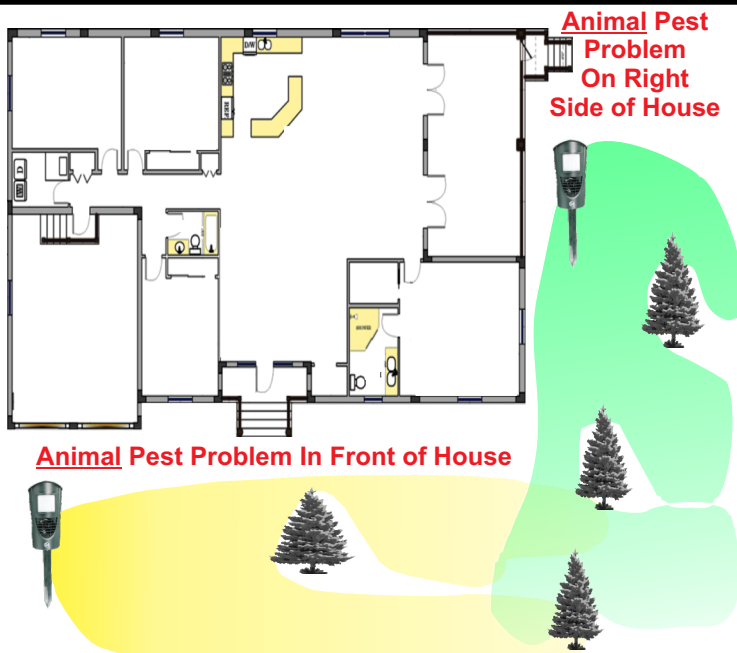

Cleanrth's TSAR520 is a very simple device to use. Here are some examples on how the placement of the TSAR520 can change the coverage and results.

As you can see in the left example, there is a single Cleanrth TSAR520 repelling the front of the house. If you're just looking to keep pesky animals away from the front of your house, one device should work just fine.

Animal Repelling Hints and Extra Information

- (1) Repelling pesky animals away is all about Startling, Scaring, and basically making animals Uncomfortable.
- (2) Animal Detection = 2,000 square feet in plain view of the repelling area. Trees, walls, & objects get in the way and block the device from activating / repelling. You could try changing the placement of the device, but you may actually need multiple devices.

(3) Animal Ultrasonic Repelling = 5,000 square feet of "Open Area", which means you have a lot of Repelling Power. One device should be more than enough to repel a 5,000 sq. ft. area, but if your problem only gets somewhat resolved, you may wonder why. Remember: More Power always means better results. There are probably more animals than initially expected, so you'll need more units/power to repel them away! Please don't get Discouraged, We Care About Your Animal Issues and Are here to help.

Animal Pest Problem On Right Side of House

Animal Pest Problem In Front of House

SECOND EXAMPLE: the Front of the House and Right Side of the House have issues. Since one TSAR520 cannot see around corners, two TSAR520 will be needed to repel this issue.

Extra Animal Repelling Hints:

Animal Pest issues sometimes take time to repel as you are training the area. Example: Animals within the repelling area will feel uncomfortable and on edge, but animals that leave the area feel okay. The idea is to teach this feeling of discomfort and train animals to stay away. This is why one or more of our powerful repellers + time are key for success.

We at Cleanrth realize that every pest problem is unique and some animals take more work than others. We also recognize that it is easy to get frustrated when you don't see immediate results.
