

Placement Information

Example #1: Minor Indoor Area Coverage

The X-Vector is a very simple device to use. Here are some examples on how the placement of the X-Vector can change the coverage and ultimate results.

As you can see in the left picture, there is a single Cleanrth X-Vector placed on the far wall of the Living Room. The blue area shows the coverage of the unit; which completely fills up the Living Room and only slightly reaching into the Dining Room and Kitchen area. As long as the problem is only in the living room one Cleanrth X-Vector should be enough.

Note: Bedrooms must be treated differently from other open areas because bedrooms have doors, which completely closes them off from other rooms / traps insects inside. Even if the bedroom only has a small issue, a device needs to be placed in that room to guarantee coverage.

Example #2: Extensive Indoor Area Coverage

In this second example, there are multiple problem areas; the Living Room has House Flies, the Kitchen has Fruit Flies, and the Master Bedroom has Moths. One Cleanrth X-Vector is unable to cover the entire house, so one device has been placed in each location.

Although the unit in the Living Room partially reaches the Kitchen, Fruit Flies are notoriously difficult to catch, so a unit placed in the immediate area Guarantees Greater Coverage. If your Kitchen problem is not that severe, you might get away with a single unit in the Living Room.

To fully maximize the effectiveness of the Cleanrth X-Vector device:

- 1) Run 24-hours a day, 7 days a week. This is a low-power consumption device that is made to attract flying bugs, suck them in, and trap or zap them to eliminate your problem.
- 2) The Cleanrth X-Vector works best at night when all the other lights are turned off.
- 3) For Best results, place the Cleanrth X-Vector as close as possible to your troubled area.

If your insect still persists after the 16-20 day mark.
