

Elmer Lucy Kurrein

A luxuriously deep-lying sofa that recalls an old-fashioned kind of comfort. It has two large feather seat cushions that contain a dividing layer underneath, lending a little stiffness to the feel of the seat, while allowing the sitter to enjoy the softness of the feather without sinking. Oversized, welcoming and with an unlikely look of poise, this piece is the ultimate in comfort. It sits on anthracite grey powder coated steel legs.

Made in Norfolk, England.
