

Lock-and-load cargo stabilizer bar

Every time you load your pickup, you have to untangle the tie-down ratchet straps or rope. Not anymore. Just release the handle on the HitchMate Cargo Stabilizer Bar (No. 4016; $38 from amazon.com), and extend it the width of the bed. Push it up against the load and extend the bar sideways. Then push down on the locking handle, and the ratchet mechanism automatically tensions the bar against the side walls. To prevent side-to-side cargo movement, buy the HitchMate Cargo StabiLoad Divider Bar (No. 4017; $15 from amazon.com). Slip it over the stabilizer bar, push it against the load and lock it into place with the thumb screws.
