Did you know...

Wellington Brewery is Canada's oldest independently owned microbrewery and growing fast. With twice as many employees as 4 years ago, they're as passionate about generously giving back to their supportive community as about producing award winning beers using local ingredients. Try their Farmers' Market Rhubarb Saison, using produce straight from 3 local Farmers' Markets, their Pumpkin Ale with squash from Stroms Farm, or their 'wet hop' harvest beer using Greenbelt hops from Clear Valley. Watch out for their Welly One-Off's; brand new, unique, small-batch specialty beers, some of which use locally captured yeasts.

Be prepared for some tasty surprises!

Grow Strong Where You're Planted

Grey County – known for great skiing, hiking, cycling and paddling – is also an emerging food and drink destination. Built on sweet limestone soils and clean water, local farms excel in raising lamb, apples, trout, beef and more. All are used in restaurants across the region as Grey County chefs embrace the farm-to-table ethos. They know that fresh foods taste best and that buying direct from neighbouring farms deepens community bonds and economic resilience. Enjoy 11 stops on the Saints & Sinners Trail, Feast ON designated restaurants, and other hand-picked local favourites when you visit.

The Saints & Sinners: Bootleggers' Run Trail map is your passport to beer, wine and cider producers around south Georgian Bay. The area was once a hotbed for bootleggers during Prohibition. Today it boasts imaginative producers who use local hops, apples and grapes to create award-winning products.

A renewed commitment to local, and ideal conditions for cider apples in Ontario and its protected Greenbelt, have encouraged the establishment of 23 world class cideries who have come together as part of the Ontario Craft Cider Association.

OCCA ciders win medals at the world's biggest competitions, using the juice from only 100% Ontario apples and pears. We are creating hundreds of environmentally responsible jobs and building communities throughout rural Ontario.

Enjoy free tastings or a cider/cheese pairing at a Greenbelt cidery and learn more about this naturally fermented beverage that refreshed our pioneering forebears.

Cider is the fastest growing category of alcohol in Ontario, let's keep it deliciously local.

Ontario Distilleries

Did you know? Ontario has a unique history in the crafting of high-quality internationally-recognized and award winning distilled spirits, creating good jobs and driving economic activity. The Ontario Craft Distillers Association (OCDA), launched in 2015 and representing more than 15 Craft Distilleries is dedicated to promoting the new artisanal products and processes that are being developed by its members. Craft distillers are creating small batches of spirits from local crops including, organic corn, wheat, rye, juniper and beet.

Distillers purchase approximately 10.5 million bushels of corn annually; representing

2.2% of total Canadian corn production

Canadian distillers are the third largest food quality grain purchasers annually buying

225,000 tonnes

The majority of this corn is sourced from Ontario, making distilled spirits producers the fourth largest purchasers of corn in the province.

Ontario Grown Hops

Ontario and its Greenbelt have always been an ideal place to grow hops, so perfect that discreet patches of hops from prohibition era farms still survive 100 years later! Due partly to a worldwide hop shortage, but also to the popularity of the local food and beverage movement, 2007 saw the emergence of a new generation of Ontario hop farmers. And they are busy keeping up with the demands of locally minded craft brewers, who use up to 10 times the amount of hops than in standard brews from larger breweries.

It's just as well that Ontario's high quality hops can grow up to 12 inches a day in peak season!

Innovative local food partnerships bringing communities together

Take, for example, the Old Flame Brewing Co. in historic downtown Port Perry. They send their "spent grain" to local Yellowlees Family Farm, the sheep are fed the grain, the lamb meat goes to a local butcher, Herrington's, where they make beer infused Lamb and Lager Pies. Spent grain is used to make Port Perry's famous Hanks Pastries and Old Flame's Maple Walnut Stout is made with maple syrup from Willowtree Farm.

YORK DURHAM HEADWATERS
ONTARIO'S CENTRAL COUNTIES

Find Ontario and Greenbelt grown food at your local Farmers' Market this summer

Make Farmers' Markets part of your summer routine. Visit www.greenbeltfresh.ca to find the local markets in your community.

GREEN BELT

Possibility grows here.

Along with enjoying a cold beer on a sunny patio, taking a weekend trip to a cottage, and breaking out the barbecue again, summer means the return of local Farmers' Markets across the Greenbelt. Farmers' Markets bring growers to shoppers, putting a face to the folks who feed cities.

Since the Greenbelt was first established in 2005, protecting prime agricultural land and the viability of farming, the number of Farmer's Markets in the region has doubled. More and more, people want to take advantage of Ontario's growing season and buy local produce, cheeses, meats, and eggs.

of residents preferred to buy local food*

51%
shop at a farmers' market once a week.*

The above result is good news for farmers – a reliable and growing market for their products. It's good news for the economy – keeping food dollars in Ontario and supporting the agricultural sector. And it's also good for the planet – reducing the distance our food travels to get to us means reducing carbon emissions and creating a more sustainable food system.

The Friends of the Greenbelt Foundation has invested in supporting Farmers' Markets through the Greenbelt Farmers' Market Network, providing support for market managers, conducting research on best practices, and coordinating promotion of markets. Together, we've doubled the number of Farmers' Markets in the Greenbelt over 10 years!

"Using unprocessed hops, harvested by our staff at the height of freshness, we brew the beer the very same day they are picked"

says Nickel Brook co-owner John Romano. And his commitment to fresh and local doesn't stop there. Made Corporate Citizens of the Year in recognition of their generous contributions to the local community. Nickel Brook also uses Greenbelt raspberries from Uncle Scott's Farms in their Berliner Weissbier and maple syrup from Smokey Kettle in Grimsby for their Maple Porter. And check out their Wet Hop Pale Ale which contains Bertwell hops, believed to be the province's only indigenous variety. You don't get more fresh, tasty and local than that.

Ontario Craft Brewers

Ontario's craft brewing sector is thriving, stimulating economic growth across the province. With 70+ independent brewery members, The Ontario Craft Brewers Association is dedicated to creating great tasting, premium quality porters, bocks, stouts, ales, pilsners and lagers, right here in Ontario.

Using traditional brewing methods, local brewers rely on fresh, all natural local ingredients such as barley and hops, organic ingredients as well as new flavours and styles utilizing local fruits, vegetables, spices and maple syrup. Many craft brewers also create cask conditioned ales which are served fresh, unpasteurized and unfiltered.

Craft beer is the LCBOs fastest growing segment, growing at anywhere from 20 to 30% per year. So support local and ask for Ontario Craft Beer next time you're in a pub, restaurant, grocery store, The Beer Store or the LCBO.

Ontario's Greenbelt

At nearly two million acres of protected green space and fertile farmland, Ontario is home to the world's largest Greenbelt. It's the solution for clean air, fresh water, healthy local food, and a thriving economy with good jobs.

Locally grown food is environmentally sustainable, fresher tasting and supports the economic vitality of rural communities. To learn more about how the Greenbelt is protecting our farmland and environment, and about the local craft beers made from the Greenbelt's hops, visit greenbelt.ca
