Complete your kitchen with the Island Gourmet Elite

Designed to slot straight into any outdoor or indoor kitchen, the Island Gourmet Elite will take your entertaining game to a whole new level.

At Heatlie we design and manufacture all our products, including the Island Gourmet Elite, right here in Australia. We take the highest care to produce high calibre cooking equipment so that you can enjoy decades of quality barbecuing.

With the Island Gourmet Elite you'll enjoy a simple, easy to use and maintain BBQ that delivers an exceptional cooking experience, every time. Customise your IGE within the following options...

- Plate Size - 600 or 850
- Plate Material - Mild Steel or Stainless Steel
- Plate Thickness - 5mm or 10mm
- Plate Type - Flat or Grilled
- Burner Material - Mild Steel or Stainless Steel
- Gas Type - LPG or Natural Gas

Zero Clearance Technology for flexible installation

A key benefit of the Island Gourmet is its ability to be installed in any material benchtop. This is due to the Zero Clearance box that protects the materials lining the firebox by keeping heat in, rather than letting it escape. This also makes for a far more efficient BBQ.

The Island Gourmet can comfortably be installed in any of the following material benchtops or cabinets...

- Medium Density Fibreboard
- Laminate
- Wood
- Stainless Steel
- Aluminium
- Stone
- Brick

Indoor Use

As of November 2023, newly built Island Gourmet Elite models are certified to be used in indoor installations. This removes the complexity of adhering to the traditional "outdoor area" standards regarding surrounding walls and open spaces.

IGE's, indoor or outdoor, have several installation requirements that need to be followed. Please consult the instruction manual found on our website for more detail on this.
