

RUXANDRA

Spring My $$$ing Summer

The collection is like one big weekend trip to the seaside. You get that phone call on Friday and you start filling up your backpack with your favorite pieces. You cram into a car with your crew and sing about forgotten loves over the songs on the radio. First thing there, you jump in the water and make a splash, eat fries and watch the ice cream melt on the hot sand. You exchange looks with a guy or a girl that you connect with. Nighttime come the club becomes your scene and it's time to dress up. Hours pass while having fun and being free. Watching the sunrise from the sea signals a new day.

My interpretation of these feelings started to take shape with upcycling and upscaling left over textiles from the atelier, by crafting detail-rich patchworks and saturated pixelated weavings. Draped and tailored silhouettes stand alongside carefree looks. The exploration of naturally dyed pieces using local flora, continues our artisanal tradition, speaking directly of sustainability and our love of nature."
