Care Instructions

This weight bag utilizes an internal refillable water reservoir. To ensure product longevity, it is important to properly care for the H2Pro's reservoir.

Rinse the H2Pro reservoir with warm water and mild soap after each use. After draining, the H2Pro bag and reservoir should be left open to air dry between uses. Failure to allow the H2Pro reservoir to fully dry during storage can result in the build up of mold or mildew. If this occurs, take the necessary precautions and perform the following steps to properly clean the reservoir:

1. Mix hot water and either two tablespoons of baking soda or two tablespoons of bleach. Pour this solution inside the reservoir.
2. Seal the reservoir and shake. Let the reservoir and solution sit for approximately 30 minutes.
3. Rinse and wash the reservoir with warm water and mild soap. Repeat as needed.
4. Once the reservoir is cleaned, allow the reservoir to dry thoroughly before storage.
