 The diagram illustrates the process of attaching the lampshade to the mounting arm. A cap ring is shown being placed over the top of the lampshade, which is already mounted on the arm. The cap ring has a central opening that fits over the top of the lampshade's mounting post.	 The diagram shows the lampshade mounted on the arm. A wire pin is used to adjust the height of the lampshade. The pin is inserted into a hole in the side of the lampshade's mounting post, and the arm is rotated to the desired angle.
