

Talima Davis (left) and Allison Lamb

FEEL GOOD ALL OVER

Safe and natural beauty products for every body.

Are you a city girl with a toe in the country? Do you love the stimulation of an urban environment but long for a greener life? Perhaps you'd like herbal spa time at home? Skincare mavens and Brooklyn couple Talima Davis and Allison Lamb have you covered! When they wanted to help a friend suffering from cancer caused by environmental toxins, Davis recalled her grandmother's farm in North Carolina where home remedies and a natural approach to living and healing were part of everyday life. To help their friend, Davis and Lamb created natural, nontoxic skincare products in their Brooklyn apartment, and when demand grew, the Limegreen brand was born: products that are eco-conscious, and have numerous uses instead of just one. Cruelty-free, vegan, organic, gentle enough for all bodies (including their 3-year-old daughter Kendall) the Limegreen range includes a multi-use balm that works from tip to toe; conditioning soaps for hair, face, body and hands; body oils that remove makeup while nourishing your skin; natural scented candles that melt into massage oil; and a body mist that is also an air and linen freshener—plus, these products are pocket-sized, making them perfect for travel or thoughtful gifts. And the beauty biz is taking notice: Limegreen has already been featured in Better Homes & Gardens, on MarthaStewart.com, and Project Runway. (brooklynlimegreen.com)

EXFOLIATION OUT OF OHIO

The OY-L Body Scrub was designed by a mom from Akron, Ohio on a mission against harmful chemicals in skincare products. The gorgeous pink Himalayan salt infused with natural and essential oils offers your body a soothing and relaxing scrub when added with a little water and applied in circles to your skin. (oy-l.com)

FROM THE GALILEE VALLEY

Created by an Israeli herbalist, Thera-Intensive Body Cream by Laido is a blend of natural aromatherapeutic and organic tea tree, lavender and cold-pressed black cumin seeds oils. Made with the best raw ingredients available, this dermatologically safe cream restores even the driest skin. (laido.com)

SOUTH AMERICAN SCRUB

Made with organic and natural ingredients such as coconut bark which removes dead skin cells, Amazonian white clay which enhances exfoliation, and organic Aloe Vera juice which hydrates, Sapien Women Body Scrub is an earthy and restorative experience for your skin. (suryabrasilproducts.com)

PLANT A TREE WITH EMERGINC

Scientific Organics emerginC Coconut-Argan Body Oil is made with one hundred percent botanical extracts to soothe and soften all skin types. Use after a shower, sun exposure, or for a gentle massage. For every product purchased, emerginC plants an indigenous tree in a non-harvest location around the world. (emerginc.com)