The directions are simple – wash your hair and then apply – leave it for a few minutes and rinse – very simple. Not so simple natural ingredients but simple to reap the benefits. What's even more impressive than your soft and nourished hair that has been given a colour boost is the knowledge that you kind of did your part for man and the environment by using the product in the first place as Surya Brasil all about environmental conservation, animal protection and living by the 'Ayurvedic Principle' which brings ...

“ together Nature, the Science of Ayurveda, and Technology thus harmonizing the human with his environment while respecting the animal and plant kingdoms for the purpose of preserving a better world — one that is ecologically sustainable and socially just.

Would I use Surya Brasil Color Fixation Restorative Hair Mask again – YES! Do I want to know more about the other Surya Brasil Color Fixation products – I DO! ... so watch this space.

Best Beauty Buy in a While – Surya Brasil Color Fixation – Leave In Cream Conditioner

Surya Brasil Color Fixation – Leave In Cream Conditioner

Okay – I know I know, two weeks in a row talking about Surya Brasil's Color Fixation! Last week I blogged about their Restorative Mask which you can read here and now this week I'm going on about a Leave In Conditioner! You're probably asking yourself what's going on ... this lady is either getting paid to write about the stuff or she's a little bit on the obsessive. Well the former is wrong and the later is quite possibly true when it comes to this Color Fixation range so far.

Now I have to admit to you that I did get to try this product for free, but I am a strong-willed Irish gal that does not get swayed easily (that is unless sushi or cake is involved – and unfortunately neither were) and all my opinions are my own, and these words too. This blog is all about sharing the good things I know about so ...

... let me begin to tell you about Surya Brasil Color Fixation Leave In Cream Conditioner ...

- It retails at €10.99 and you can purchase yours online at yourtonic.com or a load of great health stores nationwide, check the YourTonic Facebook page here for their names and locations.
- The bottle is quite big at 300ml so it's quite good value considering you only need to use a small amount each time you use it, so it'll last ages.
- It's full of Color Fixation ingredients such as Amazonian Buriti Oil, Cupuapu Butter and formulas made from herbs, nuts and fruits from Brazil, India and around the world that protect your hair colour and its health.
- It's brilliant for curly hair like mine, which I just wash, pat dry and let dry naturally but I'd say it's equally as good for those with straight hair or those who style theirs all the time.
- My hair felt fantastic after I used it – no frizz, bouncy curls. It just felt healthy, it still does.
- I've been looking for a product like this for a while, I haven't found the greatest selection of Leave In Conditioners out there in the shops and I also wanted to move away from using styling mousse, which can leave your hair a little hard at times ... so all this wanting to have healthy looking hair and getting the results means that Surya Brasil Color Fixation Leave In Conditioner gets two thumbs up ... I love it!
