LEATHER INSOLE

Sheepskin Leather | Biotech Insole | Premium Leather

When walking, each foot receives a compression of 1.5 times the weight of the body. If the footwear used does not have an adequate support structure and insole support, irradiated pain and tiredness appear as immediate consequences.

Our Biolatex foam insoles and components are suitable for all types of footwear and are proven to help in preventing postural spinal problems, tendonitis and stress cracks, substantially improving comfort.

They have high elasticity, but do not lose “memory” and conform to each flexion of the feet. In the manufacturing process, there is no addition of toxic, flammable or corrosive elements, which makes this insole an ecologically correct product, following the global trend of preserving the environment.
