“It is an olive oil that all consumers should be purchasing,” Kokaliaris passionately states, “because of its extremely low acidity, great taste, and attributable health benefits. You do not find all three of these characteristics in every oil. This is what makes Phileos of Sparta special and allows us to stand out from the crowd.”

Phileos of Sparta stands out in the industry with its dedication to maintaining consistent quality and taste throughout the year. The company’s olive oil is packed full of polyphenols, with an astounding content of 800-1200mg/kg per litre of oil. Additionally, PHILEOS EVOO INC adheres to the highest manufacturing production standards, including IFS and Agrocert certifications, with each batch of oil undergoing rigorous testing to ensure premium quality.
