

Returns Policy

Blend Concrete Design does not offer returns in the case of:

- a. change of mind; or
- b. natural variations in product colour and finish.

Colour samples are available for purchase to ensure you are happy with your concrete colour choice. The inherent characteristics of concrete products means that exact replication is not possible and concrete pieces may vary in colour and texture as between themselves and also in comparison to samples or other examples of products made by Blend and displayed in its showroom or in photographs and computer-generated images on Blend's website, marketing materials and social media.
