AUTHOR BIO

Hi, I'm Shah. When I'm not building castles from old cardboard boxes with my preschooler, building or renovating real houses with my husband, or handcrafting magical cloud lights for my lil customers, you'll find me telling stories and writing children's books.

“

I see so many children who fear being alone at bedtime. This book will offer children the comfort they so often need.

- Natasha Daniels,
LCSW Child Therapist

“

An excellent tool to help children overcome their fears of being alone, at night, in the dark.

- Dennis Rosen M.D.,
Boston Children's Hospital
